WELCOME ABOARD

Buckle up — the fun starts now!

This little pack turns “are we there yet?” into a whole adventure. No screens, no batteries, no mess — just you, the road, and a few brain-tickling games from your Brain Bus crew.

Nova here! I do the driving on the Brain Bus. Look out the window and see how many things you can find.

And I’m Cosmo! I’m the robot who loves facts. I packed a super-cool one for your trip on the last page. Beep boop!

3

Play as you go

Tick, count and spot things all the way there.

Grown-up tip: Slip the pages into a plastic sleeve or laminate them and use a dry-erase marker — now the pack works on every single trip.

COSMO'S FACT OF THE DRIVE

A cloud can weigh as much as 100 elephants!

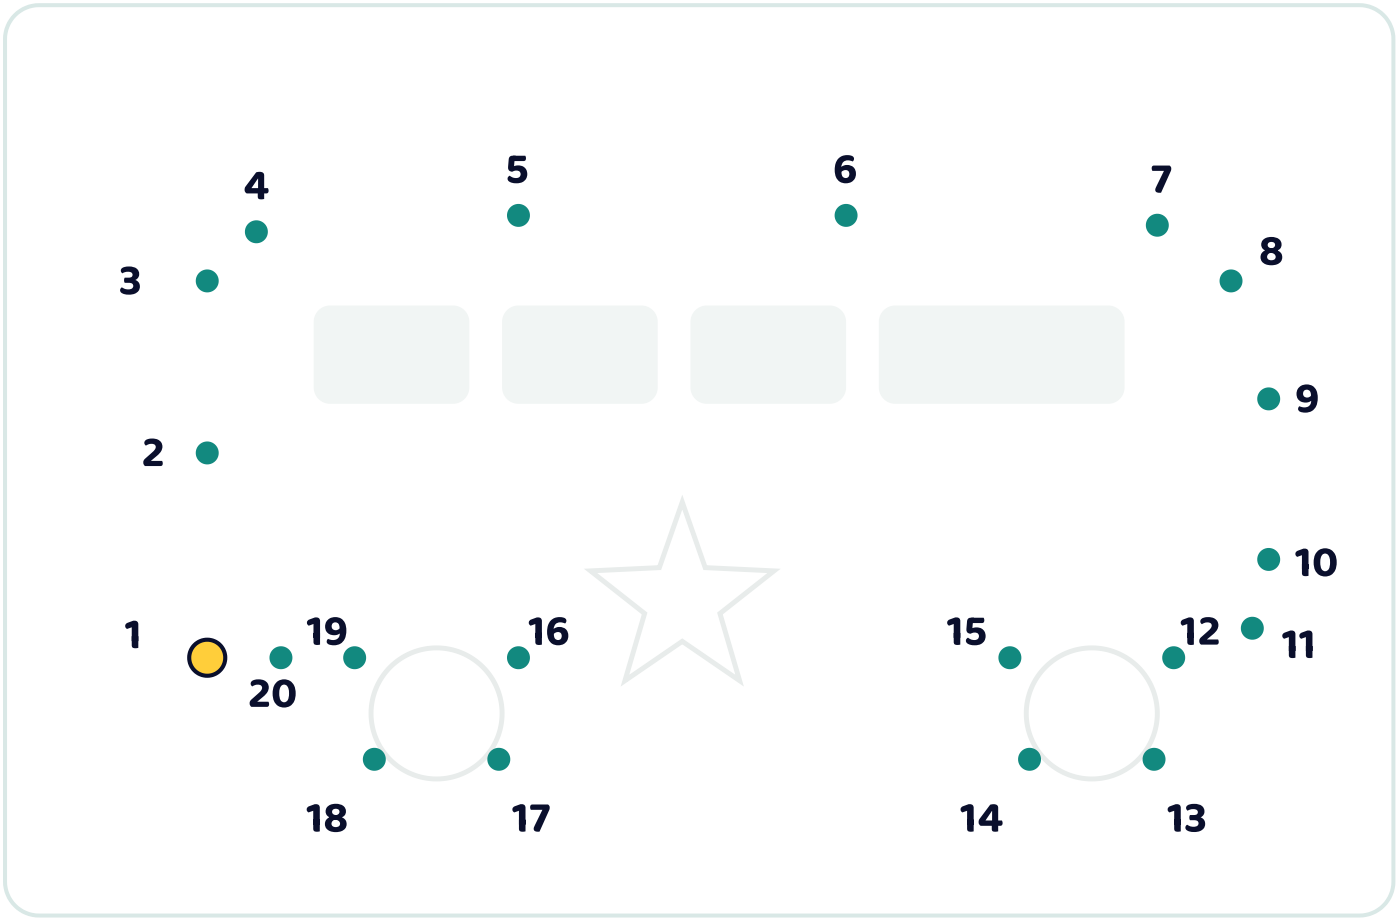

Those fluffy white clouds look light as feathers — but a big one is packed with millions of tiny water drops that together weigh more than a whole herd of elephants! It still floats, because the warm air underneath is even heavier. Beep boop — the more you know!

★ Your mission: find a cloud shaped like an animal, then tell everyone what you can see.
